

Writer – Television

Included below are only the shows to which I've made a significant contribution. There are also a few shows that I've worked on to a far lesser degree, including In Siberia Tonight (SBS, 2005), The Way We Were (ABC, 2004) and Comedy Inc. (Channel 7, 2006).

The Sideshow (sketch and gag writer)

Co-production for ABCTV and GNWTV: ABC, 2007

Melbourne International Comedy Festival Debate (gag writer)

Co-production for MICF and GNWTV: Channel 10, 2005-2007

The Glass House (gag writer)

GNWTV: ABC, 2003-2006

Winner: Best Non-Format Comedy, AWG Awards 2005

Winner: Best Light Entertainment, AFI Awards 2005

Nominated: Best Light Entertainment, AFI Awards 2006

Performer – Television and Digital Media

Stand-Up Australia, 2 episodes.

The Comedy Channel, 2006-7

agiggle.com, various episodes

agiggle.com broadcast via apple tv, 2006-7

Sydney Underground Comedy DVD

Gryphon Entertainment 2005

Writer – Comedy Advertising

'Battle for the Bronchs' (concept, writer, actor)

www.battleforthebronchs.com.au

Live action video-comic for World Asthma Day & GlaxoSmithKline

Tequila\ Digital 2006

'Your Own Personal Cheeses' (sole writer)

Produced as 'Cheesy Moments'

Interactive comedy biography generator for Pizza Hut Australia, 2006

Truth or Bare (gag writer)

'They Brothers' interactive viral campaign for Real Insurance

Tequila\ Digital 2006

Other Bits and Pieces

In addition, I've written and performed in three one-hour comedy shows for the Australian festival circuit and written articles for journals both academic and not-so-academic, a PhD thesis on Kathy Acker's punk Judaism and the occasional computer game review for GQ magazine (Australia).

I also have a few writing projects currently in development for Australian media: a feature film for Quixotic Pictures, a direct-to-DVD Children's Television film (with David Collins of The Upside Down Show and The Umbilical Brothers) and a digital downloadable sitcom for Telstra Mobile.